MZ Small Groups

Better Together!

What are MZ Small Groups?

MZ Small Groups are a great way to get to know a small group of people. Formed around interests, needs, geography, life stage, or profession, they can be done in the home, in an office, or anywhere in the greater Twin Cities.

Some groups might focus on a topic of support, learning, or a Jewish experience. Others might be about sports, making crafts, attending arts events, and more! It's up to you!

Consisting of anywhere between 5-18 people, groups meet regularly, with the number, frequency, dates, and location of meetings determined by the group.

Groups can include our members or friends. Groups are encouraged to meet at least four times a year. Group leaders are supported by our Director of Congregational Engagement.

How Do I Join a Group?

Please go to our website (mzion.org) to view our current offerings. Each group will list a leader and their contact information—reach out to them to sign up!

How Do I Start a Group?

Step 1:

Meet with Rabbi Renetzky to chat about your idea!

Step 2:

Put together a blurb for This Week at Mount Zion to get the word out!

Step 3:

Once you have at least 5 people interested, contact Gabby Helf (ghelf@mzion.org) with your blurb, photo, and details of your kick-off event.

Step 4:

Stay in touch with Rabbi Renetzky with questions and updates!

Experience Community.
